MEMINISSE

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIORS OF THE MERCERSBURG HIGH SCHOOL

1949

Class Poem

The days of summer were wanning fast, When into high school there passed Full sixty youths, all gay and bold, To give allegiance to the blue and gold,

It was the year of forty-five When this choice group did then arrive To launch a class in full career In Mercersburg, our school most dear.

"I stay", cried Sloth, the student's foe; "The way's too hard that you must go". But with a sigh some said him nay And forward went upon their way.

Indifference said, "Just so you pass—"Why try much learning to amass?"
But shirkers, most refused to be,
And on in learning's path went we.

Four happy years we here have spent On search for truth and wisdom bent! It is with many a tender sigh That now we say a fond good-bye.

The pledge of the Class of 49—
To Mercersburg High, dear school of mine—
"I'll love and cherish and ever hold,
Close to my heart the blue and gold."

EUGENL HUNSBIRGER

DEDICATION

LULA M. KELLER

As a token of our sincere appreciation for Miss Keller's outstanding service to the cause of education, for her authoritative direction in dramatics, and for her splendid work as supervisor of the English Department, we affectionately dedicate this, the second volume of the "Meminisse".

Miss Keller began her teaching career in the Hamilton Township School, and then moved to the Warren Township School. For her third year of service in the field of education, she came to Mercersburg. In her forty-three years of service here, Miss Keller taught in the grades and then moved into the high school. Many of the fondest memories that Mercersburg graduates have of their school days are associated with Miss Keller.

Her charming personality, cheerful disposition, and willing helpfulness have endeared her to her students and fellow teachers. She has set the goal that many students have striven for as they made their way through life. . . . and also helped many new teachers get a good start in their chosen field.

We salute you, Miss Keller, for the guidance and inspiration that you have given all your students, for through you, we have a better school which results in a better community.

You have our most sincere thanks and all best wishes for many pleasant years of retired life.

IN MEMORIUM

BLANCHE D. W. VARDEN 1900-1949

Meminisse 1949

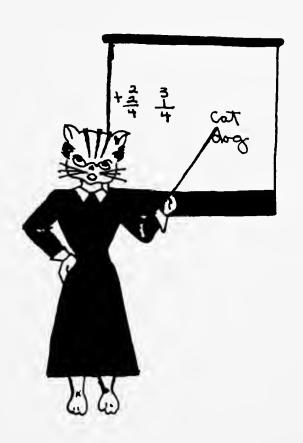

Before coming to Mercersburg High School in 1927 Miss Blanche Varden taught social studies, Latin, and general science in the Delmar High School, Delmar, Delaware, from 1922 to 1921. She was a teacher of social studies in the high school of Milford, Delaware, from 1924 to 1927.

As a teacher of social studies and Latin in the Mercersburg High School, Miss Varden will long be lovingly remembered as an integral part of the school by both students and faculty. Each of us carries memories of her good humor, companionship, hobbies, and hospitality. The originator of the "Meminisse", the high school yearbook, Miss Varden was always an unusually vital, interested leader in all the activities with which she was connected.

Until her fatal illness in her twenty-sixth year of teaching, Miss Varden had never missed a day of school.

The Supervising Principal's Credo

Boys and girls are always proud to be a part of a high school which has a good reputation, a sincerety of purpose, and a wholesome school spirit. It is just as true that no school can expect to be better than the individuals who make up the student body.

We should strive to have students—

the fellow who sweeps the street.

....who have faith....even if they don't understand all the answers.
....who have respect.
....who say little and do much....and practice their living as they preach it to others.
....who have dignity and poise and self-confidence, without acting.
....who love their God, their Country and their President....in the order named.
....who are thoughtful and considerate of others.
....who are grateful for their blessings....no matter how few, or how humble.
....who listen....and then give a truthful answer, no matter how disagreeable.
....who think for themselves....rather than to follow blindly.
....who watch their habits and speech, especially in the presence of children.

....who know....they don't know it all.

How fortunate we are that we already have many such pupils. Mercersburg High

.... who give honest praise to anyone deserving it—friend, foc, stranger, rival, celebrity, or

.... who do not gossip, or belittle others, but remain silent even if it hurts, who are dependable.... whose word is better than a million contracts.

School will improve as rapidly as additional boys and girls follow such ideals.

Senior Class History

1915—Our Freshman year might be called our "Green Year". However, after the initiation by the Sophomores we were ready to take our part in school activities and sports. Since Room 4 could not accommodate sixty freshmen, some of us were assigned to Miss Varden's homeroom. Although thus separated, we united our class by electing officers and holding regular homeroom meetings under the supervision of Miss McDowell. We gave our first assembly program this year.

September—1946-and we are called Sophomores. This year we were divided into two separate sections—the Academic and the General, occupying the second floor of the high school. The Generals were under the guidance of Mr. Hoch while the Academics were under counsel of Mrs. Cooley. Through the influence of Mrs. Cooley, the help of Miss Sheely, and the enthusiasm of the students our class initiated a school newspaper, "The Bulletin". Our athletic ability shone forth this year, with three boys and two girls on the basketball teams. Other activities in which we participated were a Christmas cantata, May Day, and Spring Festival.

1917—Juniors! At last we were together in Room 2—one class undivided. Under Miss Varden's overlooking eye we prospered and became quite proud of our class, especially when those longed-for class rings arrived at Easter time. We worked diligently for the success of the Junior-Senior banquet, which was made a gala affair with an Irish theme. We were happy to sponsor the largest banquet the school ever held. As upperclassmen we took part in the annual school play and also in the operetta, "Rose of the Danube".

1918—Seniors-so soon? With Miss Keller's patience and perseverance we maintained our dignity throughout the year. This, the busiest of our school years, was filled with many activities. A Student Council was organized and the publication of the Meminisse was continued. The Seniors captured the leading roles in "Going on Seventeen", the school play. An operetta and May Day took some of our valuable time. Our class athletes dominated the teams which took high honors this year; with the soccer team winning first place in the league and the basketball team winning second place. Now, these precious high-school days come to an end. And then—on to new endeavor!

Juniors

Junior Class History

September 2, 1917—Fifty pupils gathered in Room 6 to resume studies as freshmen. Since our class was large, the sixteen members of the Academic group, had to use part of Miss Keller's room, with the seniors. That year we went through the agony of being initiated. Our class presented a play, "Over the Counter" and took part in a May Day program.

Our sophomore year was spent in Room 3, with our whole class together. Then it was our turn to torture the freshmen, and we did some job of it! We presented two plays, "Her Tin Hero" and "Her First Date". Several of our members were on the Bulletin Staff.

And now, we are upperclassmen! Our class has dwindled to thirty-three members. Three had parts in the school play. This year we, like previous juniors, received our class rings and engineered the annual Junior-Senior banquet, held in April.

Sophomores

Sophomore Class History

1948—At Last our dream had come true, and we were members of M. H. S. Everyone was different and everything so strange that we even had difficulty finding our homeroom. We lived through the long-dreaded initiation; and before we knew it, final exams were scheduled. Then we found ourselves looking forward to becoming Sophomores.

September, 1919, finally came. It was a bit different this year—we could do the initiating! We were somewhat dubious, however, about what to do with our two new faculty members—Mr. Allison and Mr. Hooley.

This year, for the first time, we held campaigns for the election of class officers. Another innovation was the election of a student council, which consists of the president and two elected members of the four classes.

Under the direction of Miss Sheely, our class, with the help of two freshmen, produced a one-act comedy, "Elmer".

We certainly have enjoyed this year and are eager to become upperclassmen in September, 1919.

Freshman Class History

The present freshman class entered Mercersburg High School September 7, 1918, with high hopes for the future. There were forty-three pupils, but one has dropped out.

Twenty-nine pupils chose the Academic Section and fourteen chose the General Section. Both groups are under the supervision of Miss McDowell.

We have a guidance class at least once a week to orientate us for high school. The whole class takes part and enjoys it very much.

On March 3, 1949, we had an assembly, in the form of a Declamation Contest. Prizes were given to these winners: First Prize, Larry Patterson; Second, Buth Ann Hunsberger; Third, Bose Ann Wassell.

The freshman class wishes to express its thanks to all the teachers who have helped us during the year.

Baseball

Although the Mercersburg Keystoners started the season by losing their first game to Lemasters, the boys fought hard and, in spite of the fact that they had no leading pitchers, ended the season with seven wins and seven losses.

Basketball

The Mercersburg High School basketball team, coached by James Hoch, faced a 10-league game schedule with opponents such as Scotland, Greencastle, Washington Township, McConnellsburg, and Lemasters. The season started out with a bang as the Keystoners won all the league games in the first half of the season. A big let down was in store for the team in the second half when they were defeated by Scotland. They failed to win the title for the season by losing the play-off game to the Scotland Orphans School at Waynesboro.

J. V. Basketball

Judged by the games won, the J. V. basketball season may seem unsuccessful; however, the purpose of a junior varsity team is not to make victories but to give the boys experience they need for varsity competition. With this in mind, we can safely say that the boys did have a good season and should find themselves capable of turning in a winning season next year.

Basketball

The Keystonettes are proud of their success in the '48-'49 season. The team and the coach working together as "one" is the possible reason for their good record. There were only two losses, both of which were to Waynesboro.

Meminisse

For the second year the Senior Class of our high school accepted the responsibility of publishing a yearbook. Miss Varden, the faculty advisor at the beginning of the year, named the following:

Editor-in-Chief	Betty Miller
Assistant Editor	Genevieve Bowman
Business Manager	Richard Swartz
Circulation Manager
Art Editors	Barbara Drury, Dorothy Jean Hoch

Because of Miss Varden's absence, the Staff was obligated to choose another faculty advisor. After Christmas five teachers—Miss Keller, Miss McDowell, Miss Sheely, Mrs. Byron, and Miss Maclay—consented to assist in producing the yearbook.

Since that time the Staff has worked tirelessly to publish an artistic and appealing annual, one that will show in a tangible way the high school as it has existed and functioned during the past year. If this book recalls pleasant memories of high school days, the ambitions of the Staff will have been realized.

"Going On Seventeen", the annual high school play, a delightful comedy of adolescence by Hilda Manning, was presented by the Mercersburg High School on December 2 and 3, 1918, under the direction of Miss Lula Keller and Mrs. Nancy Byron.

Buddy Carhart along with his two young henchmen, Paul and Shrimpie, have just launched a new magazine. The three are, of course, confirmed woman haters until Buddy's elder sister Florence is visited by her schoolchum, Joan, and Joan's younger sister Lillums. Mr. Carhart, a trusted employee of the town bank, becomes involved in a serious shortage and Buddy tracks down the culprit. In the end the three boys score a sensational scoop for their magazine and go back to their woman hating.

The staging was under the direction of Miss McDowell, Miss Brame, and Mr. Keim; the programs, Miss Sheeley; and the business, Mr. Hooley, with the help of Richard Swartz and Jack Bricker.

"Rose of the Danube", an operetta with the setting, the little kingdom of Eurolania, somewhere in Europe on the banks of the beautiful blue Danube, was presented by the Mercersburg High School on April 29 and 30, 1948, under the direction of Mr. Hooley.

The plot—The royal family have just exhausted the public treasury, and the three villains—Popova, Demetrius, and Trombonius—are taking advantage of this to start a revolution.

However, the arrival of the McPipp family from Hollywood, and Darrell Davis, a news photographer, make the people forget their trouble for a while and enjoy themselves with the festivities of the Rose Festival.

The story ends happily after Darrell and Prince Karl overhear the villains' plot and succeed in catching and exposing them.

A unit of the Tri-Hi-Y, a national organization, affiliated with the State Y. M. C. A., was formed in the Mercersburg High School in 1918 under the leadership of Miss Sheely. This year it has a membership of forty-one and, in addition to Miss Sheely, as Counselor, has chosen Mrs. Byron as Chairman of the Advisory Committee.

The main purpose of this club is to "ereate, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian Character."
